Career Opportunities!

If you like working outdoors, with your hands, in a team environment, then you'll welcome the challenge of work as a roofer and waterproofer. Your days can mean hard work, often at heights, but you'll take great pride when you see the product of your skill and craftsmanship and that of your co- workers.

How Much Would I Earn?

You earn while you learn the trade. Union journeymen Roofers and Waterproofers earn wages and fringe benefits that are negotiated on their behalf by the union through collective bargaining with roofing contractors.

Wages vary according to the geographic location of the local union. They may be as high as $35 per hour to a low of $ 17 per hour, but generally average around $27 per hour. Fringe benefits can include health and welfare contributions that protect the Union Roofer and his or her family with medical coverage and pensions to help the Union Roofer plan for retirement.

What Type Of Work Will I Do?

Union journeymen Roofers and Waterproofers work on a variety of types of buildings, protecting those facilities against water intrusion and ultimate damage to the structure and its contents.
